Mam, hope you're doing well first of all I would like to thank you for providing us the newspapers. The newspaper was very helpful for improving our reading skills and writing skills and it also had some interesting facts and the thing which I liked the most is the word builder in which they'll give one word and ask us to build many words from it.

and the newspapers also had most activities to do like 'pick a friend and write about it', sudoku and there was even crosswords which were very tricky to find and the articles were the most interesting. It gave us a lot of information about the outer world and especially there were more things to improve english grammar. Thank you.
